Notes from Meeting #2141 – 18th of April

The meeting had a smaller number than usual with Jack P and Mark C both overseas, Ron interstate, and apologies from Jack K, John O, John G and Rhonda. However, we were pleased to be joined by visitor Samir Patel. Following the very busy meeting the previous week, this was a quieter affair.

Guest speaker - Mark Trebilcock - 'Aged Care Alternatives'

The organisation, Aged Care Alternatives, that Mark oversees, is staffed by trained volunteers and is funded by Resthaven Incorporated. Based in Highgate, it provides a free information service for people finding that they require help in negotiating the various pathways and hurdles that arise when they can no longer live independently and need the services provided by various government and nongovernment agencies. In existence for 12 years, its 'open door' approach has been very popular.

With a background in hospitality and a talent for relating to 'older' people, Mark clearly enjoys his diverse role which includes helping people complete government forms and ringing various agencies on their behalf.

He provided some anecdotes which demonstrated his love for his role and also spoke about services provided by 'the Australian Government
