Q: What do you call a horse that can’t lose a race? A: Sherbet.

Last week we heard a very informative and entertaining presentation from Angela's Russian language friend, Shirley Sorokin. Shirley had an early love of the sea, growing up in Fiji, and became a Marine Biologist. Her speciality was Invertebrates, ie molluscs, sponges and the like. Her interesting moments came when she was an observer on the first Russian and Japanese ships allowed to investigate the Great Barrier Reef. She was also part of the team mapping the invertebrates on the continental shelf on the Great Australian Bight.

Thanks to Jeff, Mark C and Mark S, Jack, Ron and Brian who did some small maintenance work at Western Suburbs DV
